AMERICAN LEGION OPENS DRIVE FOR JOBLESS BUDDIES

Arlington Post No. 39 Opens New Campaign To Secure Odd Jobs for Unemployed Veterans—Community-Wide Support Is Sought—Every Home To Be Canvassed—Famous Book Being Offered as Souvenir To Those Who Contribute—Unemployment Committee Sponsors Drive.

Arlington Post No. 39, American Legion, launched its campaign for odd jobs yesterday afternoon. Several jobs were listed in the first few hours of the survey. Every home in Arlington will be contacted during the next two weeks in an effort to create as many jobs as possible during the present spring cleaning period. Headquarters are located at the Arlington Emergency Unemployment Committee office where all responses to requests for jobs will be handled by Clifford Cook, Secretary of the committee.

A card with a list of itemized odd jobs is to be left at every home. In case of any help needed, the card is then returned to the Emergency Unemployment Committee.

All persons engaged in the survey are assigned to the work by the Unemployment Committee. The cooperation of every home is requested to finance this survey. Proceeds of the drive will be turned over by the American Legion to the Unemployment fund.

As a token of appreciation for cooperation extended, the Legion is leaving at every home a copy of the famous memoir of the world war, "History and Rhymes of the Lost Battalion" from the pen of Lee McCollum, American soldier-poet, who is at present being featured over radio station WBZ.

The survey has started within the confines of precinct six. Streets will be covered by precincts and the public will be kept posted on the progress of the campaign.

ARLINGTON MAN HEADS FLORIDA FIRM WHICH SUPPLIES FRUIT HERE

Have you ever complained about fruit which you have purchased at the corner fruit stand only to find that when you placed it on the table for the family breakfast it proved to be rather disappointing as to freshness and appearance? If you have you need no longer worry. Arlington, it so happens, has a fruit store which receives fresh weekly shipments of fruit directly from its own citrus fruit groves and its nearby orchard. This concern is the Allen-Frost Fruit product company of 14 Mill street which operates a retail fruit store at the corner of Massachusetts avenue and Mill street.

This Arlington store, operated by Edmund Frost and his partner, Mr. Allen, is supplied with fruit by the Southland Fruit company of which Mr. Frost's father, H. L. Frost, of Arlington is president. The Southland Fruit company is located in Forest City, about seven miles north west of Orlando, Florida. It consists of 220 acres of producing citrus fruit trees.

Can you picture 17,000 trees in blossom or bearing fruit? That's what this grove boasts of. It was first started in 1922 when 100 acres of land were cleared. The next step was to plant several thousand pineapple orange trees. Yes, that's the right name. Gradually more land was cleared and tangerine orange trees were set out. Hamlin variety of orange trees were next planted and then came the late, or Valencia, variety of oranges. All these varieties are now in full growth on this remarkable southern enterprise of which the Arlington man is the head.

Shipments from the Southland Fruit company are received weekly by the Allen-Frost company so this local store can certainly guarantee fresh fruit. The fruit is first expressed to Sanford and then taken by the St. John river boat to Jacksonville, Florida where it is turned over to the Clyde Line which brings the shipment to Boston. From there it is taken to Arlington.

In addition to being supplied by the Southland Fruit company, the Allen-Frost company receives apples and other fruit from its own orchard in Littleton, Massachusetts. This orchard which boasts of the finest mackintosh apples you've ever tasted consists of between 55 to 60 acres.

Retail fruit sales is not the only line of business in which the Allen-Frost company is engaged. This firm also makes the finest fruit juices for soda fountains in Greater Boston and other sections. These syrups are prepared at the Mill street plant in Arlington.

On Saturday, Liscomb Bruce, executive of the Norumbega Council Boy Scouts will cover as far as possible the following subjects:

Fire Building—(cooking fires and fire precautions).
First Aid
Pack Rolling
Axehandling and use of jack knife
Camp Site
Precautions for overnight hiking.
Surprises are scheduled for the scouts at the camp fire tomorrow evening. Sunday morning, Mrs. Greta Towne of Arlington will talk on swimming and boating.

The Arlington Girl Scouts are planning a busy week-end this week, with an overnight hike to Camp Mary Day in Natick as the big feature. The scouts will leave Arlington this afternoon and return home next Sunday afternoon.

Meeting at the camp with other scouts from various troops, the local scouts will enjoy their first meal this evening at the Natick camp. Tonight's program will include a camp fire discussion with the following topics scheduled:

Progressive hiking and cooking.
Preparation for overnight hikes.
Content of overnight hikes.

Arlington Boy Is Honored At State College

Herbert L. Forest of Arlington was one of eight students at Massachusetts State College initiated into Phi Kappa Phi, honorary fraternity, and honored at this week. Mr. Forest, a senior at the State College is majoring in English. Three other seniors and four graduate students were initiated at the same time.

Mr. Forest has been active in both class and varsity athletics, and has served as a committee-man for both the Sophomore-Senior Hop and the Junior Prom. He is a member of Phi Sigma Kappa, men's social fraternity. He graduated from Arlington High school.

This Week With The Arlington Boy Scouts

A dozen scouts headed by Scout Executive Richard A. Mellen and Camp Committeeman George W. Greenlaw made a trip to Camp Sachem, Antrim, N. H., last Saturday and spent two days of labor and fun on the shores of Gregg Lake. They took with them a lot of material for the camp and while there made a fine start toward getting camp ready for the coming season. They renovated the drainage system around Mess Hall, worked on the boats and the motor boat, revamped the store-room at Headquarters, inspected the new spring back in the woods and did several odd jobs which needed doing. The evening was spent in Mess Hall before a big fire telling stories and enjoying good talk. All reported a fine time even while working. Among those making the trip were Jacob B. Breenbrood, Alfred E. Woodward, George Wright, Everett Teague, Scouts Edmund Johnson and Robert Griffin, and Seascouts James Pierce, George Shaw, Rudolph Komenda and Oscar Peterson.

In addition to being supplied by the Southland Fruit company, the Allen-Frost company receives apples and other fruit from its own orchard in Littleton, Massachusetts. This orchard which boasts of the finest mackintosh apples you've ever tasted consists of between 55 to 60 acres.

Latest Portrait of President

This most recent photo of President Herbert Hoover is given an added interest by the recent report of Dr. Royal S. Copeland, Senator from New York, to the effect that "the President is in fine shape physically." The Senator-physician made his statement following his semi-annual diagnosis of the Chief Executive's condition.

PLAN WIDE VARIETY OF FINE EXHIBITS AT TRADE SHOW IN MAY

With a little more than one week before the first annual Arlington Trade Show sponsored by the local Chamber of Commerce, all arrangements are nearly completed. The show taking place the afternoon and evenings of May 10 and 11, will be the greatest event of its kind ever offered Arlington people. It is being planned on a most elaborate scale and Robbins Memorial town hall where the exposition is to take place will be transformed into a gorgeous display in which over fifty businesses of various lines will be represented. This is the first annual show and the public should look forward to it with keen anticipation. It deserves patronage.

The afternoon sessions will open at one o'clock and close at five p. m. After an intermission, the hall will be re-opened at 6.30.

RADIO "GOSSIPERS" TO APPEAR IN ARLINGTON

Corp. Win. Power Kenibbs and two months, are now of advanced age and many are in needy circumstances. The object of holding this particular dance and entertainment is to form a relief fund for the care of needy veterans, their dependents, and the widows and orphans of departed comrades in order that none of them may become public charges.

In connection with the dance a souvenir program will be printed with a limited number of advertisements. This is a worthy cause and should receive the support of the citizens of Arlington.

ARLINGTON'S SUPPORT SOUGHT ON NEAR EAST CLOTHING DAY, MAY 16

One hundred thousand pounds of us clothing is the goal of the Bundle Day campaign, according to a statement issued today by Augustus P. Loring, Chairman of the New England Committee of the Near East, from Bundle Day headquarters, 632 Little Building, Arlington people are requested to bring old clothes either to the police or fire headquarters on the day of the drive, May 16.

Last year three carloads of clothing were shipped from the Bay State to the destitute refugees of Greece, Bulgaria and Syria. This represented a total of between 60,000 to 70,000 pounds. Because of an even greater depression in the Near Eastern countries than we have known here during the last year, it is necessary to exceed last year's shipments if possible.

"Since 1918 America has sent nearly 25,000,000 pounds of used clothing to the Near East," said Mr. Loring. "The peak year, the year of the earthquake in Armenia, was 1926, when 4,017,595 pounds were sent to the Caucasus alone. This shipment was composed of 3,765,092 pounds of old clothing, 211,227 pounds of old shoes, 29,495 pounds of new shoes and 11,784 pounds of new clothing, all contributed by American friends of the Near East poor."

"This clothing played an important part in saving the lives of 1,500,000 people who, but for American generosity during and after the war, would have perished. At one time it was estimated that 500,000 people in Armenia alone, practically the entire country, were clothed from American old clothes bags. A report once came from Erivan, the capital of Armenia, that the Minister of Education attended a conference of Government and American relief officials clad from head to foot in clothing received from the United States and distributed from the great American orphanage at Leningrad, then Alexandropol, where 22,000 orphan children were housed in barracks formerly occupied by the soldiers of the Czar."

Bundle Day this year has been designated as May 16. The drive is being sponsored by Governor Ely, Mayor Curley, School Superintendent Campbell, Father Quinlan, Diocesan Supervisor of the Parochial School and the Fire and Police Commissioners. Clothing tags will be distributed by the school children, and the fire and police stations of Greater Boston are being used as depositories for the bundles. Mr. Loring urgently asks the cooperation of everyone interested in the Near East in making this drive a success.

Full information concerning the drive and additional tags may be obtained from the Near East headquarters in the Little Building.

Catholic Group Observes Its 21st Birthday

St. Agnes' Court, C. D. of A., observed its 21st anniversary with a banquet at Hotel Commander, Cambridge, last evening. The affair was attended by upward of 100 members. All had a very interesting evening. Guests of the evening were State Secretary Anna Ballard, Miss Mary Morris, district deputy, Rev. Maurice J. O'Connor, pastor of St. James' Church, Arlington Heights; Rev. Matthew J. Flaherty, pastor of St. Agnes' Church, and Charles Pierson, DDGK, of Arlington Council, K. of C. Each of the guests spoke. Mrs. Josephine Silvery, regent of the local court, also spoke. The toastmaster for the evening was Miss Mary E. Smith. There was an entertainment program of varied numbers.

Legion Pistol Team Wins In Local Match

In a special match last night on the police pistol range the newly organized Arlington Post, A. L., pistol patrol defeated a team made up of the reserve men of the Police Department. The police were well in the lead after the first three men shot, but then dropped down, losing by 21 points. Adelbert Zwick of the police team was the high scorer with 99 out of a possible 100, and William Woodbury, radio operator of the Police Department and member of the Legion pistol team, was high for his team with 89. The scores: Legion, Consoles 76, Northrup 81, Sippel 20, Woodbury 89, Bostiller 84, total 446. Reserve police, Clare 51, Zwick 99, Robinson 68, Fitzgibbon 85, Merritt 16, total 319.

Arlington High Meets Melrose Tomorrow P. M.

Coach Ostergren sent his Arlington High School team through a stiff workout at Spy Pond field yesterday afternoon in anticipation of the game which will be played against Melrose High tomorrow afternoon. This Mystic Valley League tilt will be played in Melrose. Due to cold weather, the local team was forced to give up its game with Wakefield this week, but all the boys are eager to come through with a victory over Melrose tomorrow.

Police Continue To Drag Spy Pond as Search for Boys Outside of Town Falls—Motor Boat Used for First Time Today In Grappling for Bodies— Police Using Every Means To Find Boys or Recover Bodies

Several clues which the Arlington police have run down in distant cities having failed to bring about a discovery of the three junior high missing boys, David Heinrich, 15, son of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar R. Heinrich, 61 Newcomb st.; Gino Santoliquido, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Santoliquido, 78 Harlow st., and John Vogel, 16, son of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Vogel, 72 Thorndike st., all of East Arlington, the local police will continue dragging the waters of Spy Pond in an effort to recover the bodies of the boys whom, it is believed, have drowned while canoeing on the pond last Monday.

An outboard motor boat was brought into the picture for the first time this morning in an effort to comb the pond more thoroughly and quickly. It is possible that several other boats will be secured in order to aid the grapples who are more or less handicapped because of the large surface which must be combed. Up until late yesterday, only one boat has been used in the grappling operations.

Officers Ryan, Lucarelli and Fitzgibbon were assigned to the task of dragging the pond all day yesterday and were relieved by Officers Scannell and Nolan at 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon. These two officers remained at the pond until after darkness. The search was resumed early this morning.

If the boys really did drown and if the bodies are not recovered within a short while, it is expected that dynamite will be resorted to in order to bring the bodies to the surface. The bottom of Spy Pond is very muddy and covered with debris. Consequently the bodies might be caught in the bottom of the pond. The blasting of the surface is somewhat dangerous, however, and this will not be resorted to unless it is absolutely necessary.

In the meanwhile, the local police who have been working relentlessly on this case and who have received co-operation from several sources in the search for the boys, are still working on clues which might lead to the finding of the boys away from Arlington. At the request of Mrs. Ralph Santoliquido, mother of one of the boys, police got in touch with the Billerica headquarters last night in hopes of finding the boys there. This clue proved to be fruitless however.

The boys have been missing since last Monday morning when they left their homes to play tennis at the Spy Pond courts. They later decided to go canoeing. The canoe which they hired was later found adrift on the pond. Some believe that they have run away from town. Should this be the case, they are expected to show up soon because today is the last of their vacation week. The boys were last seen in a canoe by a woman living near Village Lane. She spoke to them while they were at Spy Pond but returned home without suspecting that the boys would be missing only a short while later.

GROUP TO PRESENT ORCHESTRA CONCERT HERE THIS EVENING

This evening at 8:15 o'clock in the Park Avenue Parish House will be presented an orchestra concert of which Arlington may justly be proud. The conductor, Mr. Harry I. Tinkham, and the piano soloist, Alan Scott Hovaness, are both well known in musical circles.

Twenty-two of the thirty-one who make up the personnel of the orchestra are also residents of Arlington. This is the fourth annual appearance of this group and each year's programme has surpassed the others in excellence. The orchestra will present the following interesting numbers:

A WISE SUGGESTION

With the coming of the warm weather, the bathing season in Arlington will soon be in full swing. When bathing starts in this town the Police and Fire Departments prepare the life saving equipment for a strenuous season, for, without a doubt, there will be many chances to use the equipment as proved by previous years. But even with the expensive equipment purchased by the town, death reaches out every few weeks during the summer and claims a victim. This is entirely unnecessary, for the death toll in Arlington by drowning should be and can be reduced by scientific patrolling of the ponds and lakes.

A suggestion has been made whereby Spy Pond and other bodies of water where swimming is allowed would be patrolled regularly by men employed by the town. And, the best feature of this suggestion is that the men who would be assigned to patrol the waters might be picked from those who are at present receiving aid from the community because of their inability to find employment. In this way, men who are receiving financial assistance from the town could repay for such help by working as patrolmen at the ponds. They would not necessarily have to be life guards but it is assumed that these men being physically and mentally fit would be capable of coping with an emergency.

The suggestion is good; it seems a very wise one and is certainly worthy of careful consideration. The men assigned to the work would be eager to get the opportunity to work in return for financial assistance and would certainly look upon their responsibility with pride. Future developments of this suggestion are likely to take place very shortly.

CHARACTER IN CHILDREN

That the spiritual needs of children together with the means of building a character should be emphasized in connection with child health, is the opinion expressed by the Rev. Harry Emerson Fosdick, D. D., of New-York City. "On National Child Health Day we would do well to consider one phase of child life which recent events have brought forcibly to our attention," says Dr. Fosdick. "There are in this country, we are told by those who are studying the problem, 'midget' organizations of children six and seven years of age who are receiving their first training for a life of crime, and there are 'junior' organizations of boys in their teens who are already part way through their apprenticeship for a criminal career. How much more evidence of this sort will the nation need before it takes more seriously its responsibility for teaching children that which is good and healthful in other than physical realms?"

Citizens the country over are agreed on the necessity of giving children the best physical care. It is time now that they agreed on helping children to build character. A sense of responsibility to neighbors and to society, on the part of the grown man or woman and an appreciation of that which is just, are qualities which result from years of training. They have their beginning in early childhood in the way the small boy or girl is taught to act in daily relationships with other members of the family and with playmates.

In referring to the keynote for National Child Health Day, as stated by the American Child Health Association and the State and Provincial Health Authorities of North America—"Support Your Community Child Health Program: It Protects Your Home"—Dr. Fosdick concludes: "On May Day every community, through its responsible citizens, should dedicate itself to the support of all those elements in its social service program which strengthen character in children."

HISTORY OF FLORAL
CULTURE IN COUNTRY
OF REAL INTEREST

The sudden stimulating of interest in planting gardens in honor of George Washington in this year of Bicentennial celebration brings to mind certain facts in the history of floral culture in this country.

According to the United States George Washington Bicentennial Commission, history shows that wherever men came to set foot on the shores of the new world, it is notable that fragrance met them; and over all the beauties and wonders to which the earliest writers bear witness, each in his own way, they encountered sweet odors, perfume of flowers and fragrant gums and spices. Gardens of the red men were already old, when the white men came. Indians raised fruits, melons, walnuts, cucumbers, gourds, peas and divers roots and fruits. It is obvious that until both wilderness and savage had been subdued, little thought could be given to the cultivation of plants that had no definite economic value. Here and there a single flower, undoubtedly brought across the sea, was nurtured for its sentimental value, not for any lack of natural flowers. The precious seeds of well loved favorites were committed to the strange soil, and our own gardens proudly show many handsome blooms which are the direct descendants of these early ancestors who bravely reared heads in new surroundings under strange skies. Among these were: gladioli, flowers, carnations, sweet Williams, sweet John, Hollyhocks.

The Dutch Colonists were masters of gardening. When Hudson's Dutch sailors and the Cavaliers first landed the first thing they brought off to their ship was as much of the delicious spicy boughs as their boat would hold.

The gardens in the various parts of the colonies as time went on, assumed individual characteristics. The Spanish Gardens in the south; the New Amsterdam Gardens; the austere Puritan Gardens, expressed unconsciously the characteristics of the Colonies in which they grew.

A list of the old time flowers shows many familiar names. This year they will bloom again from one end of the country to the other, in back yards, in small garden plots, in school gardens.

Among these are the following: Achillea Ptarmica; double white pelitory; yarrow; white; Aconitum Lycoctonum; wolf's bane; yellow; Aconitum Napellus; blue aconite; blue; Allium Moly; 'great Moly of Homes'; yellow; Allium Neapolitanum; white; allium; needs winter protection.

Bellis Perennis; double daisy; pink and pinkish. Calceolaria Alba; Mary's slipper; lady's slipper; white; Calceolaria pinnata; smaller yellow lady's slipper. Callendula officinalis; double garden marigold (kitchen or pot marigold); yellow. Caltha palustris; water boat; double marsh marigold; yellow. Campanula Medium; Canterbury bells; Marian's violet; blue; white.

Datura Scammonium; thorn apple or Jamestown weed; planted as a curiosity where not native. "In orchard as it takes up much room" Datura fastuosa; violet whitish within; double forms called "hose-in-hose". Delphinium ajacis; larkspur; blue, ash, rose, pale bluish white.

Echinops exaltatus; great globe thistle; pale blue. Echinops spachrocephalus; lesser globe thistle. Eranthis hyemalis; winter aconite; bright yellow. Fritillaria aurea; checkered lily; yellow, small distinct checkers. Fritillaria latifolia; green and dark purple checkers. Fritillaria lutea; greenish yellow; dull purple checkers.

Galanthus nivalis; snowdrop; white "sealed with heart-shaped green". Genista tinctoria; dyer's greenweed; yellow. Gentiana acaulis; gentian of spring of gentianella; blue. Gentiana lutea; great yellow gentian; yellow. ("A medicinal plant"). Geranium pratense; meadow cranesbill; blue. large, geranium ibericum; violet.

Hedysarum coronarium; "red satten" flower, or French honey-suckle; red. Hedysarum coronarium; album; white this not common. Helichrysum arvenarium; goldylocks or immortelles; yellow, everlasting. Iberis amara; candytuft; white. Iberis umbellata; purplish. Iris Chamaeiris; dwarf flower-de-luce; bright yellow. Iris Chamaeiris; Italica; dark purple. Iris Florentina; "orris" root iris; white, shadowed with lavender. Iris Persica; "bulbous" iris; lilac and orange blotched with purple; take bulbs up in summer.

Lathyrus latifolius; everlasting pea; rose red. Lathyrus latifolius; splendens; dark purple and red. Leucocoum aestivum; summer snowflake; white tipped with green. Matthiola incana; stock gillflower; white, rose, crimson, purple, and mixed; double. Mimosa pudica; sensitive plant or "sensible" plant; grown for curious sensitive foliage. Narcissus Jonquilla; jonquil; yellow. Narcissus poeticus; Narcissus; single and double; white.

The Arlington children who are saving tinfol for the Shriners' Crippled Children's hospital at Springfield, are doing a great work. Although as yet, the campaign of the Daddy Sunshine Club for silver paper has not reached the proportions in Arlington it should, a great number of the children are assisting in this splendid work and, daily, the office of the Arlington News welcomes the little visitors with their donations of tinfol.

The tinfol is sold and the money derived goes into the treasury of the hospital. In June the club will sent close on to seven ton of silver paper to the hospital, the results of a years' efforts on the part of children of Medford, Arlington and other nearby cities and towns as well as donations from adults in the vicinity. The truck load of tinfol will accompany a group of talented members of the club who, with an orchestra made up for the most part of Arlington children, will entertain the cripples on the spacious lawn in front of the hospital. Daddy Sunshine, Past Illustrous Potentate Samuel C. L. Haskell of Aleppo Temple of the Shrine, and a large number of Nobles with their autos, will accompany the children. "Mal" MacDonald, who has charge of the club's entertainers, will act as master of ceremonies during the presentation.

Daddy Sunshine Club Rules

1. Be kind and helpful to others.
2. Look both ways when crossing streets.
3. Always be kind to dumb animals.
4. Write a letter to Daddy Sunshine, or have Mother or Dad write it for you, every now and then.
5. Try to bring a "Ray" of Sunshine into the lives of your parents and others every day of the week and every week of the year.

These rules are not very difficult for good girls and boys to keep. Most of them are kept by them anyway.

Mail your letters and stories to Daddy Sunshine, in care of this paper. He will answer them in the Daddy Sunshine Column.

Write on but one side of the paper, and place your age and address on the letter after your name. Give the day, month and year of your birth.

To join the club all you have to do is promise to keep the rules—and keep them.

Dear Daddy Sunshine:

I have not written for a long time. Are you and "Mal" ever going to put on more Sunshine matinees at the Capitol theatre. We miss them so much and you know I never got a chance to do my dance on the stage here. You will let me know, won't you, just as soon as you begin to put the show on again. The children all say you will start in a week or so. I still go every Saturday afternoon hoping to see "Mal" and the children on the stage.

I am saving silver paper and the other day brought a box of it to the Arlington News. The girl there is awfully nice and she took my name and address and told me to keep on saving it. I also try to do a good deed every day by spreading sunshine wherever I can. There are lots of chances to do so as several of my chums are sick and I visit them and bring them things I know they like. Besides I get much fun out of helping mother. Sometimes she says I should go out and play when I am doing something. That don't make me mad but I do like to help her.

I listen to your program every Monday night from Station WLOE, at 7.30 o'clock. It is great. I wish I could sing. Maybe you would let me broadcast.

Dates to Remember

April 30, 1803

This was the date upon which the famous Louisiana Purchase was completed. It was the purchase of a large tract of land from France by the United States at a cost of $15,000,000. The tract consisted of much more than the present State of Louisiana, embracing all that portion of the country extending from the Mississippi to the Rocky Mountains and from the Gulf of Mexico to Canada.

This purchase has proved a good investment of many times over as do most sound real estate investments. One of the Co-operative Bank's services is the aiding of individuals who are interested in real estate.

Thanks Mary for a very interesting little letter. If Daddy Sunshine could hear from you every day it would not be too often. You certainly are doing your bit to help spread sunshine. Daddy Sunshine hopes that the children will start at the Capitol theatre again, real soon. He will announce it in the column when they are going to. Keep up doing good deeds Mary, and you will always be happy. Thanks for the silver paper.

BELMONT

Wednesday marked the last meeting of the season of the Belmont Woman's Club. It was a day filled with much of interest to the members. It was the annual American Home Day. Prior to the afternoon meeting the homesnue, and Mrs. Lewis S. McCreary, of four of the members of the club were visited, these being selected as typical American homes. The places visited were the homes of Miss Lucy Stone, 184 Washington street; Mrs. Elmer F. Hathaway, 266 Common street; Mrs. William H. Claffin Jr. 35 Concord ave-known popular song. Mrs. Arlene Lauby and Mrs. Sally Richardson gave the class history. Mrs. Mae Clark read a horoscope of the class, and Mrs. Ethel Hebard read the class poem. Mrs. Leah Hanson, as superintendent of schools, conducted the exercises. In connection with the meeting there was a Thermen demonstration by Mischa Thulin.

Breeze through traffic with the new TEXACO FIRE-CHIEF GASOLINE

Shrieking sirens—the roar of a powerful engine—a red streak flashes by and she's on her way! There's power for you—real honest-to-goodness power—the kind of power you'd like to have right under your own accelerator!

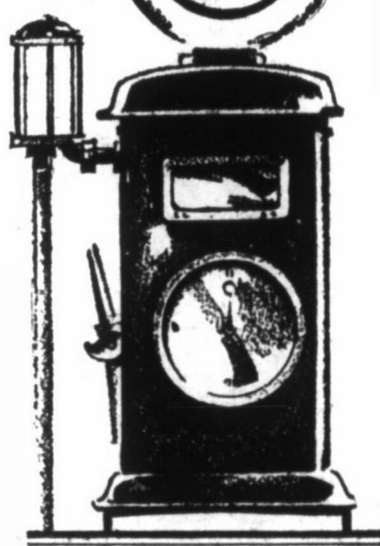

Today you can have it. Not the fire engine, of course, nor the siren nor the bell—but the very same power gasoline which surpasses federal specifications for use in United States Government emergency equipment.

Here's what Uncle Sam uses this type of gasoline for . . . "ambulances, fire-engines and emergency vehicles." What the Government uses for emergency equipment—you can now have for your own everyday use at no extra price.

Texaco Fire-Chief Gasoline is an anti-knock gasoline with an octane rating that is outstanding. And remember Texaco Fire-Chief plus Ethyl equals Texaco-Ethyl, now more than ever the leading premium gasoline.

WE MAKE

"Moving Days"

LESS TOPSY-TURVY

WHEN moving, there are a thousand-and-one things to think of—like getting the cat and canary safely settled! But there is one thing you don't have to bother about—your electric current. For once Edison current is "turned on" in a house or building, for our customers' convenience, we keep it "on" . . . All you need do is to tell us your new address and the date of your moving, so we can make the proper bookkeeping records—and when you arrive at your new home, you can depend on the current being there—awaiting you.

Obviously, if you're moving into a new house or apartment where Edison current has never been available, we'll have to ask you to notify us to make the wiring connections—and as long as possible in advance, if you please—for this work necessarily takes considerable time . . .

And perhaps you'll want a new appliance or two to take along to your new home? We have any number that would be honored to be chosen—not to mention the very fine stock carried by other nearby stores selling electric appliances.

All In A Week

By Joseph D. Callahan

Miss Elaine Downe of Wachusett avenue, one of Arlington's most talented young singers, was the center of attraction at the Spring Get-Together party of the Sunday Evening Club of the Heights in the Park Avenue Parlor House last Monday evening. As the feature of the evening Miss Downe sang several of the latest hits and was applauded to the echo by the enthusiastic gathering. Miss Downe is well known in Arlington and has sung over the radio on several different occasions. Prior to the main act of the evening the pupils of Miss Laura Halliwell's Dancing Studios presented some fine musical numbers accompanied by tap and ballet dancing. The selections which were most popular with the audience were "Bend Down Sister" and "The Penthouse Serenade." Many members of the club who are home from school and college for the Spring vacation attended and an opportunity for renewing friendships was afforded. The committee in charge of the affair consisted of Henry Merriam, president of the club, assisted by Marshall Rice, James Malcolm, Audrey Lester and Katherine Blaisdale.

Francis Anderson of Highfield road has just been elected to the Glee Club of Upsala College of New Jersey. Due to the large number seeking membership in the club, tryouts have been going on for some time. In addition to his musical work Francis is president of the Sophomore class at the college and is active in intercollegiate debating.

The Vagabond Club of the Boston Y. W. C. A. presented "The Vagabonds of 1932" before a capacity audience in St. James hall, Appleton street, Arlington Heights last Tuesday evening. This up-to-the-minute revue of singing and dancing scored a hit with the on-lookers from the very beginning of the show right through the final number. Miss Lavinia Anthony of New York was the star of the performance. Miss Helen Nichols of Florence avenue, Arlington Heights, directed the show.

Miss Jessie MacKenzie who recently won the Fashion Show sponsored by the Arlington Daily News, The Capitol Theatre and many progressive Arlington business houses was one of the leading players in the three-act comedy "And Mary Bid" which was presented during the past week by the Young People's Fellowship of the Church of Our Saviour. Supporting Miss MacKenzie were: Margaret Hall, Cynthia Robinson, John K. Winner, Gertrude Stephens, Austin Crowe.

Grace Pond, Willard Hunt, Lillian Morse and William Jorgensen, Barbara Crosby and Warren Hunt were the stage managers in charge of the production.

Lieutenant-Governor William Sterling Youngman has done his beautiful bit to restore confidence. On Monday evening he addressed 100 members of the Association of Collection Agencies at their annual banquet in Boston. This means that at least 100 members were not occupied in their inquisitorial profession. Our suggestion is that every morning somebody address all the members of all the collection agencies at breakfast, somebody address them at noon, and somebody at tea and dinner. This plan would take only twenty-four orators a week. If the Lt.-Governor cannot supply the oratorical performers, Mayor Curley has a supply of speechmakers on his staff that a year's addresses, four a day and no duplication, would not scratch the surface of.

Many former and present Arlington High school baseball stars have signified their intentions of joining the Menotomy Club squad. Among those who plan to join are Donald Ross, John Hederman, Adrian Downey, John Lane and Frank Goodwin, all former A. H. S. drawing cards. Husky Crovo of this year's team also has announced that he will climb on the bandwagon. The club which was formed a short time ago is a member of the Paul Revere Twilight League and the boys will play their home games on the Spy Pond diamond.

RKO KEITHS BOSTON

Heading this week's vaudeville program at the Keith Boston is the youthful team of Charlie Jordan and Johnny Woods, known to millions of listeners-in as "Radio's Ballyhooligans". In their humorous skit, they travesty the stars as well as their own material and announcements; they poke fun at everything that is audible over the air and enhance its comedy value by making it visual. They bring into their offering many of the outstanding stars who attract the public's ears to advertising messages.

Musical comedy's famous character comedian, Solly Ward, is another of the important features on the week's bill. He presents a farce-travesty with song which he calls "He Always Gets His Man".

The brilliant American dance team of Gracella and Theodore; Art Henry & "The Unfinished Act", and Madam Olympia's Prize Winners are other stage attractions.

On the screen, this week is the film version of "Lena Rivers", the touching and tender narrative of a young girl born under a stigma, written by Mary J. Holmes, a story which has appealed to the heart of several generations of American readers at which is still being sold in quantities.

Charlotte Henry, seventeen year old actress of the stage and screen creates the name role in "Lena Rivers", and the excellent supporting cast includes Beryl Mercer, James Kirkwood, Morgan Galloway, Joyce Compton, Betty Blythe and other artists. Music by Larry Flint and the RKO-Lians, latest Pathe News, and various short screen features round out the program.

KEITH'S THEATRE

The soul of a people is analyzed and laid bare in a remarkably human drama of humanity's millions by Fanny Hurst which is currently being shown at the New RKO Keith Theatre.

The film is RKO-Radio Pictures' "Symphony of Six Million" which co-features Ricardo Cortez and Irene Dunne in a stirring story of great sacrifice and romance.

Like most of Fanny Hurst's stories from which motion pictures have been made, the film focuses on the intimate happenings, the small failures, the successes and joys and sorrows of one section of humanity.

"Humoresque", one of the great stories by this same author, was the saga of a violinist. "Symphony of Six Million" is the story of a young doctor who rose from the ghetto to become a famous surgeon.

The pains and sorrows of his people eventually wean him back to the Ghetto where he finds life worth living in the development of an old romance.

In support of Miss Dunne and Cortez appears a distinguished cast which includes Anna Appel, for thirteen years a star of the Yiddish Art Theatre who plays the role of Cortez' mother, and Gregory Ratoff, a distinguished Yiddish Art Theatre star also, creates the role of Cortez' father.

The son and sister are played by Noel Madison and Lita Chevre. The film was directed by Gregory LaCava. Latest Pathe News, various short films and an organ concert by Leo Weber are other attractions on the program.

Marionette Show for Worthy Organization

Boston is to have the delightful experience of seeing the Sue Hastings Marionettes perform "Hansel and Gretel" at the Exeter Street Theatre on the morning of May 7 at 10.30 o'clock. Among the many noted sponsors of this largest Marionette organization in the country is the New York Theatre Guild which brought the Sue Hastings company to the Colonial Theatre earlier in the season. Some of the favorites then given will be repeated on the May 7th bill, including the Chinese fantasy "The Gooseberry Mandarin" which won such popularity with adults and children alike. A circus number, "Under the Big Top" will be presented for the tiny tots. Miss Sue Hastings has just returned from an invitation visit to the Virgin Islands. She and her charming programs were bidden to perform there by official command of Governor Paul M. Pearson. The Marionettes are usually to be found in New York performing at the Martin Beck Theatre.

Miss Hastings, who has five companies active throughout the United States has promised to accompany the troupe herself on this Boston visit. The "Hansel and Gretel" interpretation will be with music following the opera.

This program is new to Boston. The organization to benefit from this occasion is the New England Kurt Hattin for homeless children. The event is under the management of Miss Lydia Walker of Cambridge. Tickets are on sale now at the Exeter Street Theatre box office. Children are admitted at half price.

TO BUILD HOME HERE

Gustave E. Larson of 8 Harold street yesterday received a permit from William Gratto, Arlington inspector of buildings, to erect a one-family dwelling, with garage, at 17 Berkeley street. The cost of the house will be $5,000.

HOME IS FLOODED

The home owned by Charles Thompson at 51 Maynard street was flooded yesterday morning when a water pipe burst suddenly. The water division of the public works department was notified and the pipe was repaired before the flood caused any great damage.

Arlington Theatre Hits

Tomorrow's bill at the Regent Theatre in Arlington will include high class vaudeville acts. In addition, the theatre will repeat the same two feature attractions which are being shown today. These are "Range Law," starring Ken Maynard and "A Dangerous Affair," featuring Jack Holt and Sally Blane.

The Capitol Theatre in this town is also showing top-notch hits today and tomorrow. A glance at their advertisement in today's "News" will more than convince theatre patrons.

Frances Dade, slim blonde beauty, a recruit from the legitimate stage, will be seen in her first western drama, Ken Maynard's starring vehicle, "Range Law," at the Regent Theatre, in which she plays an important role.

Miss Dade hails from Philadelphia. She is the daughter of Frances Pemberton Dade, whose grandfather, General Pemberton, commanded the defending forces at the siege of Vicksburg.

Starting her theatrical career in 1926, Miss Dade went on the road in a role in "Gentlemen Prefer Blondes." During the Los Angeles engagement, she was seen by Howard Hawks who wanted her for a role in "Cradle Snatchers."

An accident during the first few days of her initial screen production placed Miss Dade in a hospital with concussion of the brain. When she recovered her health she went again into stock, playing ingenue leads for 37 weeks in Toronto and 17 in Ann Arbor, Michigan.

She is five feet, five inches tall, with violet blue eyes and weighs 110 pounds. Her favorite sports are riding and swimming.

For the first time since they completed "Dirigible," Jack Holt and Ralph Graves appear as co-stars in another Columbia production, "A Dangerous Affair." These wise-cracking adventurers of "Submarine," "Flight" and "Hell's Island," emerge as light comedians in their newest screen venture. Jack Holt, as a police lieutenant, unravels a murder mystery; while Ralph Graves appears as a wise-cracking newspaper reporter who unwittingly starts it all.

"A Dangerous Affair" is said to be a real novelty in mystery stories because, despite the seriousness of the deep mystery involved, it often borders on downright comedy. Murders, spooks, belly-laughs and general hilarity are all intermingled. And the murders are not the result of gangster machinations. The whys and wherefores of gangdom are outside the pale of this film.

Supporting Holt and Graves in "A Dangerous Affair" are Sally Blane, Susan Fleming, Blanche Frederici, Tyler Brook, Sidney Tracy, Ester Muir, William V. Mong and others. It was written by Howard Green, who has adapted many notable screen successes; while Edward Sedgwick is responsible for the direction.

Automobile Stolen While Parked Here

A sedan automobile owned by Carl Malmgren, was stolen while parked in front of 15 Wildwood avenue, Arlington, according to headquarters early yesterday morning. A teletype message was sent out from the Arlington headquarters as well as Lexington headquarters were immediately notified by the police. The car is light tan and has black trimmings.

"Miracle Man" Booked For Boston Showing

Rarely does it happen that the passing of time actually improves a good story. But that is the case with "The Miracle Man," which—in its new version as a Paramount talking drama—comes to the Paramount and Uptown Theatres, Friday, April 29th.

Years ago when "The Miracle Man" made its first hit, as a Geo. M. Cohan stage play and as a sensation of the silent screen, it was a miracle picture pure and simple. People were awed and touched by the healing of the crippled child which is one of the great moments of the drama. Yet there was no assurance of reality, no sense of a actual possibility in the miracles—no explanation of their occurrence except on grounds of faith.

But in these ten years a new science has sprung up, a science of the human mind that is determined to explain the authentic cases of mental healing which are on record—cases remarkably similar to those depicted in "The Miracle Man". Psychology has investigated such modern miracles, has even attempted to reproduce them. Today, if you ask any reputable psychiatrist if it is possible for a paralytic to be cured by a sudden shock—by good news, such as the invigorating assurance that he can and will recover—the psychiatrist will say "Certainly". Psychology, as a science, is still in its infancy. But more is being learned about the strange workings of the human mind—working so much more mysterious, and more powerful, than men were wont to believe. Perhaps, by the time "The Miracle Man" is played anew as a television drama, its miracles will be not only possibilities but familiar occurrences.

One thing is certain, that the story of "The Miracle Man", even ten years from now, will still be exciting. Those who have seen the new Paramount version declare that the most sophisticated critics were thrilled by the scene in which a real miracle occurs, when a fake one has been carefully staged by the crooks who seek to exploit the faith-healer. All the essentials of drama—pathos, humor and above all surprise—are in this episode by which the plotters are confounded and the faithful justified.

Robert Coogan, otherwise known as "Sooky," plays the little cripple. Hobart Bosworth is the white-haired Healer; while Sylvia Sydney and Chester Morris play the city crooks who come to prey and remain to prey.

We stamp our own values upon ourselves and cannot expect to pass for more.
